EDMONTON IS THRILLED AT 'BALACLAVA'

Rialto Super-talkie is Page Torn From Glorious History
of Britain

Thrilled as they always have been thrilled hundreds of Edmontonians out on the first showing in this city, at the Rialto theatre on Thursday, of the mighty British super-talkies, "Balclava," which opened at three day engagement at this house.
They thrilled with pride as events unfolding one of the most famous and most glorious pages of British history was revealed before their eyes
in accurate historical reproduction and with all the resources of the modern motion picture studio and art that the British War Office could give to make the picture worthy of its great subject.

It was at Balclava that the Light Bridade, immortalized by Tennyson
in his poem on the subject, charged the Russian guns, riding down the "valley of death" asking and reasoning not, but cheering on.

It is magnificent, but it is not new," said the director of the film.
But it was a magnificent legacy in cinema, doing the British to duty that the "cable 600" left to the British Empire as a legacy to the world, for as long as history is honored, the "charge of the Light Brigade" will stand out as a legend in the history.
A reproduction of the charge is the grand climax of "Balclava," although it is only one of the incidents.

The whole of "Balclava" is treated with historical accuracy and accuracy in respect to the War Office.
The stand of the "Thin Red Line"
of Scottish Highlanders, the British who did not know when they were being treated and other scenes of the war are treated with special prominence.

Lord Raglan, Sir Colin Campbell,
Lord Nelson and other great figures are shown in their original roles.
"Balclava" is a triumph for the British motion picture industry. It marks a decided advance in British production—direction, acting and treatment of the picture.

It is by such pictures as "Balclava" that the motion picture industry has become a part of the world
and a part of the world's history.
That should be seen by all.
The cast, including some of the best motion picture players, including Sir Cyril Maude, Sir John Gielgud, Al. Goddard and Benita Hume.
"Balclava" is an excellent and a millions in picture production.

AT THE CAPITOL
Although the latest picture, "The Millionaire" which shows at the Capitol theatre for the first time today,

AT THE MONARCH
"The Fourth Alarm," which opened three days ago at the Monarch theatre on Thursday, has been rated by competent authorities, "one of the best of the most interesting human and grippingly interesting pictures
recently shown in the picture house."

"Trader Horn" Big Sensation Here Saturday

For six days, starting Saturday at 9:30 a.m., Edmontonians will be given an opportunity of seeing at the Capitol, "Trader Horn," which was actually filmed on the dark continent. One who may wonder,
a white man, a white in a death battle, a desperate fight between beast and man, a scene of the thunderous charge of a rhinoceros,
a herd of elephants, from across the Nile and on victory for one of the great epics.

One sees and hears the death of the white hero, "Trader Horn," and through all the thrills runs a reminiscent of a boy from Pore and his golden haired son, Garry.
Garry carries the role of "Trader
Horn."

AT THE EMPRESS
Jack Oakie, white-cracking star, arrived at the Empress theatre on Thursday in his latest picture, "Caddo
Horn."
He has never been into a better picture.

He is assigned a role that gives him
many chances to get across the approach speech of humor for which he is justly celebrated.
The plot is a gripping and full of complications, without which no
picture can be considered complete.

A hand of amateur legends decide to put on an entertainment, closing as their theme, designs of a gang leader. The picture is a "wow" and the entertainment proceeds merely until a real band of outlaws appear on the scene and throw the professional band out of the picture.

AT THE PRINCESS
Jack Oakie and Ralph Graves, buttress of "Trader Horn," "Fighter," and "Hell's Island," are brought together in "Trader Horn," the
special which opens an engagement
today at the Princess theatre.
Garry, who directed the first two pictures, also directed this one.

"Trader Horn" is a tale of adventure and romance, which will be action held at the local air station at Lakehurst, N.J., in the waters of the Atlantic region.
Pull cooperation of the United States Navy was accorded exclusive of Columbia Pictures in the making of the film, and the entire resources of the air station, including the use of the dirigible Los Angeles, placed at their disposal.

AT THE DREAMLAND
In "The Prodigal," now playing at the Dreamland theatre, Lawrence Tibbet
for the first time in "The Prodigal,"
to play his first modern modern role, in many ways the most interesting of the series.

The singer appears as the prodigal son of a wealthy family, who is really an altogether of suspicion and harmony. The dramatic action begins and continues at a fast clip, working to a surprise ending.

The series, as in the case of "The Prodigal," "The Prodigal," "The Prodigal," and "The Prodigal," are brought together in "Trader Horn," the
special which opens an engagement
today at the Princess theatre.
Garry, who directed the first two pictures, also directed this one.

TROUBLES ENOUGH

Mr. Gardiner has given notice of motion in parliament that the Government should take into consideration the advisability of nationalizing the Canadian Pacific Railway.

As the assets of the Canadian Pacific amount to $1,371,000,000; as the national debt a year ago was $2,250,000,000; and as the National Railways, with its 19,000 miles of track, including interest on Government advances, is $61,257,000; and as there is a deficit in sight which may run to anything more than $30,000,000; the Government will hardly require much time to get to the conclusion that there are a number of matters more urgently requiring its time and money.

THE FIRST REAL TRY-OUT

The Railway Commission has ruled that the special rate on Alberta coal shipped to Ontario shall apply without interruption until the end of next March. Without this order the rate would have expired at the end of July and would have come into effect again on the first of December.

The importance of the new order is that for the first time the Alberta miners will be given a chance to sell coal in Ontario in the fall season, when dealers and private parties are making their contracts for the winter's supply. The nearest approach to that privilege the Alberta miners have yet had is the special rate when the rate became effective at the beginning of December.

But even that was found to be too late to give the Alberta product a fair break against United States coal, since the Pennsylvania men got into the market earlier and cornered the trade before the Alberta salesmen could start to deliver. The new ruling thus provides for the first real test of the coal which is being mined in the United States anthracite in the Ontario market by Alberta coal.

THOSE GRAIN RATES

Parliament on Wednesday started the annual debate as to why domestic freight rates on grain are higher than export rates. Without apparently, anybody understanding it, the matter is extremely important. The substance of the matter was that the Railway Commission had so ordered; and that the rates differ because they differ.

The point was raised by one of the British Columbia members, who urged that the Government should take action in giving a decision on an appeal that was made by the three western provinces for a reduction in the domestic rates for grain in the prairies and British Columbia. The Premier explained that the change of Government last June has delayed matters, but promised attention to the appeal as early as possible.

With foreign grain and stock prices at their present levels, it is of far more than usual importance that there be a free movement of feed as well as of milling wheat within Canada while in the interests of prairie grain growers and of stock raisers in British Columbia and the eastern provinces. A substantial reduction in the domestic freight and stock rates is the one way to bring about that movement.

COST MUST GOVERN PRICE

A Russian representative at the London wheat conference said the Soviet is willing to agree to not "dump" wheat in outside markets. "Dumping" means selling at less than the cost of production. "Dumping" Russian wheat means selling at less than the cost of producing in Russia—not in other countries. That no doubt is what the Moscow delegate meant, since it is the only thing he could mean and talk sense.

If there has been any hope that Russia would agree to hold wheat at a price above the cost of producing it in other countries, regardless of its own cost level, that hope may as well be abandoned as, later, Russia, like its competitors, is subject to economic laws, and cannot suspend them. Since Russia is not a free anywhere and everywhere, it is a commodity that cannot be long maintained at an artificially high price.

To attempt that would only be to cause importing countries to grow their own wheat, which the great importing countries tries in Europe have been doing to an unusual degree during the last couple of years. The case is the same in the Russian competition in the wheat markets in free competition, with prices based squarely upon the cost of production in the country in which the wheat is grown. For Russia, too, will have to sell its wheat at a price based upon production cost.

THE DUTY IS AN OPPORTUNITY

A peculiar responsibility, plain, urgent and inescapable, rests upon the public to see that those men who served the country in its fighting forces are given a chance to earn a decent living for themselves and their families; or, if work cannot be found, that they are given relief on a scale in keeping with the service they rendered.

It is true, of course, that it was the nation, and not the city or the province, that called those men to arms and for whom they fought. The obligation to take care of them rests with the Dominion, rather than with the provincial or civic authority.

But it will not do to stand upon ceremonial distinctions of this kind when returned men and their families are in want. The one proper thing to do, and do forthwith, is to meet their needs; by employment if that is possible, and otherwise by prompt and adequate relief of a direct kind.

These are men who deserve special consideration, and the city and the province should see that they get that consideration without loss of time. The Dominion Government will subsequently come in to help the local measures—and it will, all well and good. But meantime, Edmonton, with help from the province, should undertake the responsibility of protecting its soldier citizens, and that in no reluctant way, but as an opportunity to do something for men to whom the country owes what it can never repay.

U.S. UNEASY OVER LONDON WHEAT PARLEY

Washington Not Surprised at Rejection of International Pool Plan

By Ken Clark
Canadian Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, D.C., May 22.—(C.P.)—Information that 19 nations at the wheat conference at Canada House in London found the proposal for an international export pool unacceptable was received in Washington without surprise. The United States has determined temporarily to follow its own traditional policy "no foreign entanglements."

Chairman Stone, of the Federal Farm Board, said he had not even received a telegram from Sam H. McElwain, the board's representative at Canada House.

While officials refused to be quoted on the London conference and experts took the view it was too early to prophesy, the general feeling here was one of uneasy suspicion.

Authorities refused to commit themselves in any way upon the situation of Mr. McElwain and Nils Olson, representative of the department of agriculture at the conference. It is generally conceded McElwain and Olson are in London without instructions and without powers. The speech made by McElwain in which he declared upon average reduction and announced the United States might be expected to continue to export wheat, was drawn up in Washington before the delegation left here.

There is no question the United States government would not be disturbed if the conference should fail of any reason other than a possible review of the world wheat situation.

LECTION ARGUMENT

Such an issue would support the policy of the Farm Board in endeavoring to persuade farmers to reduce their average something which could be made a Republican argument in the election campaign of 1932.

As seen by the experts here the London situation now develops as follows:

The apparent impasse encountered by reason of the United States attitude will be overcome by agreement among all the other nations upon formation of an export pool in which each nation has been previously sold by McElwain, the United States would want to get the share of the market.

The "joke" in this suggestion, as pointed out by an official Thursday, is the position of the United States, which would demand the same status in an export pool as they held before the war when they dominated the world wheat market.

Officials here are beginning to talk about the immense difficulties which will confront an attempt to pool the wheat of the world. It is assumed other delegations as well as that from the United States would have to get authority from their home governments before any such plan was decided upon and there would be time in those countries.

District Musical Festival Closes Tonight With Concert by Winners

TRIBUTE PAID V. BARFORD BY L.T. GOVERNOR

Mrs. J. W. McAllister Wins Solo Event—Miss B. Campbell Leads Pianists

Making his first public appearance in an official capacity since being elected as the Mayor's representative in Alberta last night, Gov. W. L. Wilson on Thursday night presented trophies and awards to successful competitors at the Edmonton District Musical Festival in the course of a grand concert given at McDougall auditorium.

The festival will conclude with Friday's competitions and a second concert in the evening.

His Honor was given a stirring ovation as he was introduced to the audience by Vernon W. Barford, dean of this city's musicians, who spoke of the profound interest his Honor had always taken in music, though his association with the Alberta festival movement had been of necessity confined to Calgary.

Still going, His Honor recalled how 27 years ago, on the occasion of his first visit here, he had attended a service at All Saints' church, presided over by the name of Vernon Barford, who was organist and choirmaster.

It is good to find him still here, said His Honor, still presiding at the organ and still conducting the choir, still winning major prizes and with not a gray hair showing in his beard.

His Honor then presented the winners with their awards. Clavin K. Bold, K.C. treasurer of the festival and chairman of the executive committee, the contestants to His Honor who shook hands with each and expressed his gratification at their success.

The concert as a whole was a great success, with the large audience filled and enthusiasm at a high pitch. Participants contributed items with which they had won their respective competitions.

The afternoon saw some closely contested events, with the open program, mezzo soprano, soprano and the open piano events concluding the main program.

These competitions were held at McDougall, with both adjudicators in attendance.

BOLD CONTEST
The open soprano, mezzo or contralto contest went to Mrs. J. W. McAllister, who in singing two short songs, won 99 and 90 for a total of 189. Second place was won by Miss Dorothy Blackwell, who was awarded 89 and 91 for a total of 180, while third place went to Mrs. William Townsend with 90 and 86 for a total of 176.

In all there were seven competitors. Prof. Arthur Colquhoun, solicitor-at-law, was the first to sing in Canada of his colleagues. Mr. Johnston, who had expected to find at least 10 to 15 voices, with the splendid vocal range of the choir, was disappointed to find that he had heard a higher standard of vocal work than at any other festival in Canada.

Recalling his visit to Canada in 1929, Prof. Colquhoun said that he was impressed with the work of the choir children. He had received two trophies in the contest. The singing large church choir of from 10 to 15 voices, with their splendid vocal range, was the most impressive feature of the festival.

A place, he said, was musical or otherwise, according to the quality of the teachers and not, as some supposed, by reason of climate.

He was particularly impressed in this city by two features, namely, the fine choral work and the high standard of vocal work.

Of Mrs. McAllister, Prof. Colquhoun said that her husband, Vernon, was an excellent choir leader and was splendidly sung. Vocal control was an artistic performance.

He thought Miss Blackwell was really singing what she was singing about, she had a lovely low voice and was very secure in her vocal method. Her singing was of high quality, her quality and artistic individuality.

The open piano solo event was won by Miss Bessie Campbell, with 91 and 83 marks, for a total of 174. She was second with 89 and 92 for a total of 181. The third place was taken with a total of 179.

Competition closed their own numbers. Much fine talent was displayed in this class and warm praise was given to the contestants.

Competitions continued on Friday at McDougall, with both adjudicators in attendance. The contest was brought to a conclusion so far as the open piano event was concerned, after the afternoon and a concert in the evening will conclude the whole.
